Ali Al-Najjar shines as one of the youngest yet most prominent lecturers in the west. He has lectured worldwide in countries including Africa, UK, Canada, and the majority of the United States of America some of which include Miami, New York, New Jersey, California, Boston, Ohio, Denver, Houston, New Orleans, and Maryland.

He comes from a lineage well known for its deeply rooted presence in Islamic sciences and jurisprudence as he is the son of Sheikh Husham Al-Husainy, the director and founder of the Karbalaa Islamic Education Center, one of the earliest Islamic centers established in the west, and the great grandson of the late Mohammed Ali Al-Najjar, the engineer and constructor behind the mausoleum of the 7th Imam, Musa ibn Jaafar Al-Kathim (as).

Ali Al-Najjar began his public career from his childhood as he grew up in Dearborn, Michigan amongst many prestigious and scholarly figures while studying under numerous scholars and lecturers.

Ali Al-Najjar was born in the United States of America and currently resides in Dearborn, MI as he completes his academic major in Social Psychology and minor in Theology.
